

The Administrative Division is one of the three Divisions of the Summit County Sheriff's Office and is headed by Chief Brad Whitfield.

The Administrative Division is responsible for those areas which any organization cannot do without: personnel, finance, community relations, legal affairs, internal audits, and accountability reviews.